Subject: : Exhibition and Sponsoring EuroResidue IX

Dear,

As you probably know, EuroResidue is a series of conferences dealing with all aspects of residues of veterinary drugs. Since 1990 already 8 of such conferences have been organized in the Netherlands. Currently the Scientific- and Organizing committees are making the necessary preparations for the EuroResidue IX conference, which will be organized from 18 – 20 May 2020 in Egmond aan Zee, the Netherlands. For your convenience we have enclosed a copy of the first circular and call for papers.

An exhibition of laboratory equipment and supplies will be organized, next to the scientific program, consisting of lectures, posters and workshops. As during the previous conferences this exhibition will be integrated with the poster presentation, coffee breaks and lunches assuring the best possible exposure and interaction with the conference participants. The exhibition will take place during the entire conference. We expect approximately 250 to 300 participants, mostly researchers, from industry, research institutes, universities and inspection services from Europe and the rest of the world.

Hereby we want to invite your company to join EuroResidue IX conference. For this purpose we can offer your company different packages. Prices are including taxes and a free full registration for one person to attend all scientific sessions and social programs, including the conference dinner. You will have the possibility to building up your booth on Sunday afternoon (17th May 2020 from 11:00 to 15:30) preceding the conference.

If you are not interested in renting exhibition space maybe your company is interested in sponsoring the EuroResidue IX conference in another way and thus getting big exposure of your product/company amongst potential buyers. We hope that for the EuroResidue IX conference we can count on your company, for sponsoring the conference.

For more information, please call my colleague Mr. Paul Zoontjes (+31 6 14323063) or Email to EuroResidue@congresservice.nl

It will be our pleasure to discuss your contribution to the conference in more detail.

We hope the above given information provides the basis on which you can make your decision. For more information and registration for the exhibition please visit the EuroResidue IX website; <http://www.EuroResidue.nl> We are looking forward to your reaction.

With kind regards,
Drs. Saskia S. Sterk
Chairman Organizing Committee EuroResidue IX
